

Cyberika 2082

So, the above image is a pic of Earth colony in 2082 where, there is only one common colony and the rest other places were neglected, devastated due to lower population as more than 35% of people went to off world colonies (Other world colonies). Cyberika is the name of the space agency comprising the continents of Asia and Europe, working for advanced space projects like Type I and II civilization, about other Galaxies also....

Like this other 2 space agencies are there for other continents.
For Americas - Inex 51
For Oceania - Nebula

So, these space agencies are so dedicated towards their work that they compete with each other for advanced space projects and soon this competition takes its worst form when they use bounty hunters (humans) across Earth and off world colonies for cyborg project to make them suitable for higher civilization and for efficiency of their work.
By doing this, when there is a shortage of population due to these work, they even use their scientists for cyborg projects.
This competition of theirs turns into an astronomical conflict and this shows that Science has gathered enormous knowledge but at the same time, humans have failed to gather enough wisdom.

This situation is portrayed in a movie named 'Cyberika 2082' and soon to be directed by Aristama Naik and to release by the end of 2027.
